$1,000 as Christmas Gift.

Chicago, Dec. 23.—Pitcher Louis Richey of the Chicago National league club will receive a Christmas check for one thousand dollars from the club for winning more than 60 per cent. of his games last season. President Murphy promised Richey $1,000 if he would exceed that average in 1912, but Richey missed the mark by a few points. The offer was repeated at the beginning of last season, in addition to the $500 that Richey failed to obtain in 1911. Richey is visiting his teammate, Lavender, at Monticello, Ga.

GARDNER A VALUABLE PLAYER

Harvard's Quarterback an Important Asset to Team—Is Captain of Hockey Team—Beau Brummel of Crimson Squad.

One player on the Harvard football team that has received only scant attention from the self-styled all Eastern critics or experts who yearly select their mythical eleven is Harry Gardner, quarterback on the premier football team of 1912, dealer in brains for some of his less fortunate teammates as well as active general supervisor and director of the Harvard play. Harry is a New York boy, and received his early football training at Concord, N. H. Like all other good St. Paul school athletes he too was thoroughly drilled in the fundamentals of ice hockey, which accounts in some part for the fact that he is Harvard's hockey captain for this season.

With two years' experience at St. Paul's behind him, Gardner had very little difficulty in assuming the pilot position on the Harvard freshman eleven. As a sophomore he made his "H" against Yale in 1910, being one of a trio of Crimson quarterbacks who did duty during that engagement. The last season was the third that he has had a hand in piloting a charge against the Elis.

Gardner is very quiet and the time of year that he indulges in the most conversation is during football season, when he is called upon to deliver his signals as the Harvard freshman eleven. As a sophomore he made his "H" against Yale in 1910, being one of a trio of Crimson quarterbacks who did duty during that engagement. The last season was the third that he has had a hand in piloting a charge against the Elis.

PHEASANTS AND MALLARDS

SENT ALL OVER COUNTRY
American Game Protective Association
Distributing Birds to Members.

English pheasants and wild mallard ducks have recently been sent to all parts of the United States by the American Game Protective and Preservation association, according to an announcement just made at its office, 111 Broadway, New York. The birds were distributed freely to members of the association who agreed to protect them.

These shipments are the first to be made in accordance with a plan for restocking the country with game through the establishment of sanctuaries on which birds can increase unmolested. The overflow from these sanctuaries will provide shooting on contiguous lands. With the aid of its members the association hopes to start such refuges in every suitable community by supplying the birds to stock them.

Although only pheasants and mallard ducks were reared last summer in sufficient numbers for distribution, experiments with quail, ruffed grouse, wild turkeys, wood ducks and Canada geese proved very satisfactory and resulted in a supply of these birds from which it is hoped that enough can be raised next year to warrant sending them out. Special attention is being given to the native upland birds and if success with quail and grouse continues, they will in time entirely supplant the English pheasants at the association's farm.

HARVARD LEADS IN

CHESS TOURNAMENT.

Three Colleges Score by Princeton's
Default.

New York, Dec. 22.—By defeating Columbia 2-1-2 to 1-1-2 today in the 21st annual intercollegiate chess tournament, Harvard made a long stride toward ultimate victory. Yale, which yesterday lost to Harvard, today defeated Princeton 3 to 1.

At a meeting of the team captains it was decided that Princeton should not put in a substitute for Van Vleet, who is ill, and that Columbia, Harvard and Yale should get a point by default at his place. Columbia, which played in the third round tomorrow will find Columbia paired against Yale, and Harvard against Princeton.

In today's play Yale for Columbia and Winkelman, Harvard, played a draw; Selinger Harvard, defeated Childs, Columbia; Gluck, Columbia, defeated Harris Harvard; Morton, Harvard, defeated Stockton and Carter, while Princeton won from Terry.

The standing for the two rounds follows:
New York Dec. 21-22, lost 2-1-2.
Yale won 4, lost 4.
Columbia won 1-1-2, lost 2-1-2.
Princeton won 1, lost 3.

DREW BEST 100-YARD MAN.

New York Writer Says Springfield Boy May Prove Greatest Man for Distance of All Time.

An "all-American" track team is offered by the New York Press. Howard Drew of Springfield is the representative for the 100 yard dash, and of him the following is written: "Drew undoubtedly is the greatest 100 yard man America has produced since the palmy days of Arthur Duffey. The young negro is a veritable speed marvel and it would not be at all surprising to see him prove that he is the greatest 100 yard man of all time. Drew has the old 'patter-patter' pick up that marked the starting of Piper Donovan, H. M. Johnson and George Steward, the famous old professionals. Flash Donaldson, the South African professional, is about the only one of the present day sprinters, either amateur or professional, who has the old pick up down to such a degree of perfection as Drew has.

"Drew not only gets off his mark like an arrow from the bow and picks up his speed in a wonderfully short distance, but he has a truly wonderful burst of speed. His only bad tendency is to ease down once he gets in the lead. That fault some day may cost him an important race. What Drew is to the 100 yard men Craig is to the furlong sprinters. The negro is the only amateur in the world who has proved himself to be faster than Craig at 100 yards. Craig, however, can sustain his speed for 220 yards and is an invincible furlonger. Drew as yet has not shown that ability."
